

MAXIMIZING YOUR IMPACT

Move from Good to AWESOME!

We know that behind -- and in front -- of every thriving Kids Hope USA program is a pastor who is passionate about the church being a beacon of hope in their community.

Your leadership is critical to the success of your Kids Hope USA partnership. Your role as a KHUSA pastor includes:

Casting Vision.

You help your congregation imagine a community where every child is precious to Jesus, where the church can easily and simply be the real presence of Christ at your local school.

Calling people to discipleship and service.

Giving a child one hour a week of undivided adult attention can significantly impact their development and life. And it also gives mentors and prayer partners a concrete and meaningful way to live out their faith.

Encouraging your director.

Together, set goals and plan strategies. Identify and address obstacles. Ask for stories and updates so that the whole church can celebrate successes!

Investing in the partnership.

In your unique role as pastor, you can build relationships with the principal, school staff, and families, becoming the unofficial chaplain of the school. You can also serve as a mentor. There is no better way to demonstrate your commitment to the program and the school than by mentoring yourself!

Multiply your impact!

Do you envision a community where every child who needs another positive adult in their life has a mentor? Where every school has a church partner that serves their students in Jesus' name? Let's reach more kids!

Add a school!

If you are meeting the needs of your current school, there is nothing like adding a second school to energize your existing mentors—and recruit new ones. The double-investment speaks volumes about your commitment to your community!

Recruit a partner!

Consider inviting another church, Christian non-profit, or Christ-led business to join you at your current school. It's an incredible witness to the body of Christ when two organizations serve alongside each other for the common good.

Spread the word!

Share the vision of Kids Hope USA within your district or your network. There may be other churches in your community that long to serve their local school but don't know how. You can tell them about the power of Kids Hope USA and how easy it is to get started!

So many possibilities! Connect with us today to share your vision and explore options. We are eager to work with you to reach more kids!
